

Kirsten Moore-Towers and Dylan Moscovitch replace Dubé and Davidson at Skate Canada International in Kingston, Ontario on October 29 and 30, 2010.

A knee injury will keep three-time Canadian pair champions and 2008 world bronze medalists Jessica Dubé and Bryce Davison from competing this weekend at 2010 Skate Canada International in Kingston, Ontario.

Canada is able to send an additional team as a replacement. Kirsten Moore-Towers, 18, Waterloo, Ont. and Dylan Moscovitch 26, Waterloo, Ont., will compete at the event. The pair team, who train with Kris Wirtz and Kristy Wirtz at the Kitchener-Waterloo Skating Club at RIM Park in Waterloo, were fifth at the BMO Canadian Figure Skating Championships last year, and finished sixth at Skate Canada International last year. They will also be competing at Skate America in Portland Maine on November 12, 13 and 14, 2010.

Congratulations KMT and Dylan!
